

As a network member of SYAN, Nepal team is compiling adolescent health resource bank. This resource bank could be useful for individuals and organisations who are working on or interested in adolescent health program planning, advocacy as well as research in Nepal. The scattered and limited reach of adolescent health resources made us realize the need of creating a resource bank that includes all the available resources on adolescent health including available laws and policies with credible sources. We can also disaggregate different sectors within adolescent health and make it more clear and organised.
